

The North Carolina Office of Strategic Partnerships (OSP) is hosting the 2023 Government Research Partnerships Learning Forum on Thursday, April 13. The all-day event will be in-person in the Triangle (full details forthcoming).

The Learning Forum will be an opportunity to showcase and discuss examples of government-research and government-philanthropy partnerships and to workshop aspects of partnership development, launch, and execution.

OSP invites partners from government, philanthropy, and research (public and private colleges, universities, community colleges, and other research organizations) to share examples of cross-sector partnerships underway or completed in North Carolina for possible feature during the Learning Forum. To apply to present a partnership, complete the relevant questions in the registration form (link below) by March 30.

Registration is free, but space is limited. (You can register for the Learning Forum without applying to present a partnership.)

Click here to register

Following registration, you will receive a calendar hold.

Please share this with others who may be interested. If you have questions, contact partnerships@osbm.nc.gov.