1. Strategic Plan Executive Summary

SCOPE OF AGENCY WORK

The North Carolina Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) is an independent, quasi-judicial agency established to:

- hear and render administrative decisions in a fair and impartial manner;
- administer a uniform system of administrative rulemaking and review procedures for agencies;
- act as the official publisher of the North Carolina Register and the North Carolina Administrative Code;
- serve as the deferral agency for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission; and
- investigate acts of discrimination in employment and housing.

The OAH Hearings Division provides an independent forum for prompt and impartial resolution of administrative law contested cases involving citizens and state agencies. The Hearings Division strives to render timely contested case decisions that will be upheld on appeal by correctly applying state and federal laws to the facts of the case.

The Rules Division performs legal analysis and administrative and technical work in the review, compilation, production, and publication of the North Carolina Register and the North Carolina Administrative Code; and provides administrative support and legal counsel to the Rules Review Commission (RRC). The Rules Division ensures compliance with the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA).

The Civil Rights Division serves as the State’s designated deferral agency for cases deferred by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) as provided in Section 706 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act for employment discrimination charges filed by government employees covered under Chapter 126 of the General Statutes. The Civil Rights Division functions as the enforcement agency for the State Fair Housing Act and provides administrative and technical support to the North Carolina Human Relations Commission (HRC). The HRC facilitates discussions with local communities on a wide variety of issues related to community relations, employment, education, and housing.
OAH STRATEGIC PLANNING PROCESS

OAH executive leadership and representatives from each OAH Division (Hearings, Rules and Civil Rights) worked collaboratively to refine the OAH mission, vision, values, and divisional goals for the 2021-2023 biennium. OSBM staff provided excellent strategic planning training sessions and helpful resources such as the OSBM Strategic Planning Template to aid OAH staff in the development of the OAH 2021-2023 Strategic Plan.

OAH VISION IN THE 2021-2023 BIENNIAL

1) The following efforts are being made to transition key Rules Division activities to a digital format in the 2021-2023 biennium:

   a. The print publication of the NC Administrative Code is required by GS 150B-21.18. As proposed by Senate Bill 513, the current print publication of the NC Administrative Code would transition to a digital format. The print subscription service to the NC Register was eliminated in December 2019. Currently, both publications are available in digital format on the OAH website at no cost to the public.

   b. In response to the ongoing COVID-19 public health pandemic, OAH has waived its rules regarding hard copy rule submissions by agencies. OAH will continue to refine electronic filing of rules.

   c. Efforts are underway to eliminate the printing of paper binders for Commissioners’ use during Rules Review Commission meetings. We will encourage Commissioners to use laptops or tablets to access meeting documents from the on-line meeting agenda.

2) OAH is committed to developing more outreach programs for disseminating information to the public as to the services provided by each OAH Division. The following outreach programs are currently being provided by the OAH Rules and Civil Rights Divisions:

   a) The OAH Rules Division offers monthly roundtable discussions and trainings for rulemaking coordinators and agency staff with rulemaking responsibilities. These in-person trainings have been suspended during the COVID-19 public health pandemic and will resume when it is safe to do so. However, staff of the Rules Division remain available for individual consultations with agency staff and members of the public to discuss rulemaking. The Rules Division continues to explore ways to educate citizens on how they can participate in the rulemaking process.
b) Human Relations Specialists in the Civil Rights Division are available to conduct Fair Housing trainings for Realtors, Management Companies, homeowners, Homeowners Associations, and citizens.

3) OAH will be in a more favorable position to fulfill the expectations of parties served by the Agency in the 2021-2023 biennium with the addition of the following key staff positions:

Administrative Specialist 1 (FTE) - OAH Clerk’s Office
This position would assist with processing the volume of contested cases filed with OAH in a timely and efficient manner; enable the Clerk’s Office to more efficiently address case initiation of new and existing jurisdictions; perform administrative tasks associated with office operations and hearing processes; and support the functions of the Human Relations Commission (HRC) to help alleviate the burden placed on HRC staff to support the 22-member Commission in addition to individual job duties and responsibilities.

Human Relations Specialist (FTE) - OAH Civil Rights Division
It is anticipated there will be a substantial increase in the number of fair housing complaints filed after the federal moratorium on housing evictions during the COVID-19 public health pandemic ends in 2021. In North Carolina, landlords filed 18,000+ evictions against tenants. It is estimated that one out of five renters – an estimated 422,000 in North Carolina - is behind on rental payments. Based on these projections and current eviction data, it is anticipated there will be a 25% increase in new fair housing discrimination case filings. This position will investigate charges of housing discrimination, conduct housing trainings, and assist with providing administrative support for the Human Relations Commission.

User Support Technician I (FTE) - OAH Agencywide
This position would enable IT staff to respond to technical issues in a more timely and efficient manner; assist internal and external end users with proprietary applications (Case Management System (CMS) in the Hearings Division, and Rules Automated Tracking & Electronic Filing System (eRATS) in the Rules Division); provide desktop support for the OAH Raleigh office and satellite offices in Charlotte, Waynesville and High Point; assist with supporting the technical needs of OAH courtroom systems; enable the agency to address the need to fully separate and conduct mission critical IT-related functions utilizing different IT staff positions; and ensure IT personnel administering access control functions are not responsible for administering audit functions.

4. Highlights and Opportunities

Agency Highlights and Best Practices

HIGHLIGHTS OF OAH ACCOMPLISHMENTS

In 2016, the OAH online e-filing system was made available to registered e-filers to access contested case hearings through the OAH website. This initiative has made the contested case process paperless and considerably easier for citizens and agencies to file a contested case.

In 2019, with assistance from the North Carolina Department of Information Technology, Digital Services, the OAH website was upgraded to the Digital Commons platform currently used by several State agencies. The fully redesigned website has a more responsive (mobile-friendly) design that is better suited to meet user needs and agency goals.

In 2019, OAH upgraded the audio/visual equipment, tele-conference, and video conference systems in four courtrooms, Commission room and conference room in the Raleigh Office. The state-of-the-art equipment meets user demand for digital presentations via laptop, Skype, remote video telephone conferencing, remote translation, American Sign Language, and hearing assist. The upgraded systems digitally capture these additions into the record utilizing digital audio/video court recording software.

In 2020, OAH replaced its antiquated Centrex telephone system with a Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) digital system. The VoIP system is a more cost efficient and functional digital telephone system that has significantly boosted user productivity and enhanced customer service.

Potential Initiatives

In the 2021-2023 Biennium, OAH plans to explore ways to implement the following initiatives:

- By pending legislative initiative, OAH will be moving to paperless subscriptions for its publication of the North Carolina Register and the North Carolina Administrative Code.
- The Civil Rights Division will explore and evaluate the potential benefits of transitioning from paper to an electronic (digital) platform for all records, files, documents, and information related to conducting fair housing investigations in the Human Relations Commission.
- The Civil Rights Division will explore ways to improve and enhance investigations in housing by developing, designing, and implementing a mediation program to resolve fair housing disputes where formal complaints have been filed.
- OAH plans to implement statutorily required training and educational initiatives for the Human Relations Commission delayed by the COVID-19 public health pandemic and improve coordination of those initiatives by local Human Relations Commissions.
- Post COVID-19, OAH will continue the efficiencies gained through remote access hearings and Commission meetings by utilization of WebEx and Microsoft Teams.
• OAH is contemplating the establishment of a Trial Court Administrator in the Clerk’s Office to provide for a more efficient calendaring system and case management statistical review of ALJ dispositions.

• OAH is exploring means of making the Administrative Procedure Act more efficient and cost effective for contested case petitioners. Implementation of such measures would:
  1) provide incentives that encourage mediated settlements and other measures that produce amicable termination of administrative litigation;
  2) reduce litigation costs to citizens and agencies resulting in considerable monetary savings; and
  3) potentially reduce the stress of continued litigation.

• OAH is contemplating placing a resident Administrative Law Judge in an Eastern North Carolina courthouse to balance the three resident Judges housed in Western North Carolina courthouses.

• OAH plans to evaluate and study the security needs for the OAH Raleigh office and implement any recommended security features to not only protect the integrity of the judicial process, but also the safety of the staff and visitors to the OAH building.

• OAH is exploring the development of additional outreach programs to educate citizens on ways they can participate in the rulemaking process and learn more about the services provided by each OAH Division.

Collaborative Opportunities

OAH will actively pursue the following proposed collaborative opportunity in the 2021-2023 biennium:

• Proposed State/Federal Government Collaboration

  The Civil Rights Division is exploring opportunities to improve and enhance its state/federal government partnership through collaboration with the US Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) on joint investigations of selected employment discrimination cases as part of the EEOC’s National Strategic Plan for employment enforcement.
